

LESSON 03: ELECTION (2)

Confession Study: Canons of Dort I.1-7 (continuing on from last time)

1. Would God have done anyone an injustice if He had condemned all mankind _____
2. In what does God's love become apparent (is God's love made manifest)? _____

3. Where and when does God have the message of the Gospel preached? _____

4. What is the outcome of this preaching? _____

5. Where lies the cause for unbelief? _____
6. Where lies the source of faith? _____
7. Where does the conferral of faith on some and not others proceed from? (I.e., how come God has some people believe and others not? _____

8. Are all men equally worthy of condemnation, or are some better than others? _____

9. What does God's eternal decree of election do to holy and god-fearing souls? _____

10. How many people has God elected? _____
11. Christ was appointed to be what? _____
12. What does our election through glorification demonstrate? _____
13. What does our election through glorification praise? _____
14. What do you think, is our election unto salvation about us or about God? _____

God did not choose certain people because:

God chooses

The chosen

A person who chooses for God _____

A person who does not chose for God _____

Confession Study: Canons of Dort I.11-13

1. (11) Why is election unchangeable? _____

2. (12) How do we not attain assurance of our election? _____

3. (12) How do we attain assurance of our election? _____

4. (13) Does the doctrine of election make Christians lax or give them false security? _____ because _____

◀Heinrich Bullinger, often considered a proponent of "double predestination"

John Calvin, instrumental in focusing ▶ attention on the doctrine of election

